CARNIVAL DANCE EXTRA!

STAND BY FOR DECEMBER 7!

In order to make sure that things will go big in case anybody should be hit by the gale and heel over too far, plenty entertainment of the highest caliber has been provided. Bud ("Graf") Linke will put on a "sizzling" hula hula movement. Commodore ("Chappie") Lord will do a tight rope walk from the Lake Breeze pier to the club house, climaxing this stupendous feat by a daring dive into a thimble full of three star Hennessy. Chuck Williams and Ray Stafford have purchased flaring red ties as a background for their "Fairy Dance"! Before the glowing embers of the fireplace, Harry Holbrook will tell us of the good old days when your knife was a tool for conveying food, instead of an ornament, and when little girls hung on to the curfew so they could have one more fling with Charlie Fast. And last but not least Florence "Holly Wood" Stafford will make her initial appearance in the Boom-Boom. Give the little girl a big hand! Brownie and Skinny Cornell will give a few readings from the "Cook-Eyed World" accompanied by Bull Montana!

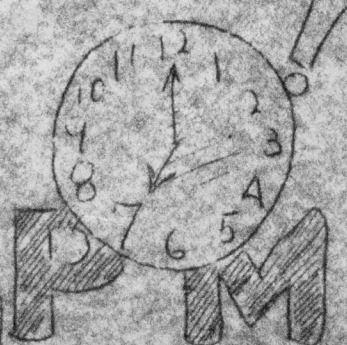

That's right - Eat. Boy, will we eat. Everything from Gefilte fish to stered owl. An old time Dutch Lunch that will rival anything the Blue Goose ever thought of, will be strewn before you. Before eating, everyone will silently face the south in honor of the old sloop, "Albatross." (You too, Bill!)

House Committee!

The Club House will be open all winter. Mr. and Mrs. Young are in charge.

Meals will be served at all times. For special Saturday night dinners, Mrs. Young should be notified by noon. For Sunday chicken dinner, to be served about four P.M., either notify Mrs. Young Saturday or call Ted Eaton at Ra. 3309 anytime before nine A.M. Sunday, and he will make your reservation. Mrs. Young's $1 Sunday dinner can't be beaten.

Get the winter habit, drive over to the lake, enjoy a few rounds of bridge in front of the big fireplace, then sit down to one of those wonderful meals.

The sailboats are all in winter storage and the iceboats are being overhauled. - Charles East, Chairman

News Flasher

Max Slaughter was a week-end visitor at the Club.

Mr. Innes of New Lexington has purchased the "Mamad" from Fred Reese. Mr. Innes is an enthusiastic sailor and will have this good old boat entered in all the races next summer.

Howard Schneider is making extensive alterations in the "Lulu II." She will be equipped with a Marconi rig.

Norm Maclean will be back next year with the Bonnie Jean also with a new Marconi rig.

After a couple of rather mild winters the iceboat fans think they are about due for some good sport.

Eagar Wolf's "Ghost" has a new coat of varnish and is being equipped with new rigging to make it even faster than before.

Charles East has the "Ice Prince" and the "Ten Below" all set, and Chuck Williams and John Zimmer are working on the "Icicle" and "Skiao."

Skeat Sayre left for Florida last week. Some folks have all the luck.

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company probably would have been greater still had they not alighted Buckeye Lake when selecting a name for the company.

Al Johnson and Bud Linke should not become discouraged; Old Noah was nearly six hundred years old before he became a sailor.

"How long," I asked Commodore Lord, "are you going to let this boat leak like a sieve before you do something about it?" Just then Mrs. Lord's voice came floating up from the cabin, in the words of an old song, "Oh, it may be for years, and it may be forever."

Guy - "How did you find yourself this morning, George?"

Geo. - "Why, I looked under the table, and there I was!"

That girl who wants to marry Bud Linke and can't get him certainly has a big sorrow.

Guy Sackett clinched the sale of a radio to a snake hunter the other day by telling his prospect he could get two stations on it at the same time.

God gave us memory so that next time we would be sure the ice was strong enough for ice boating.

If they keep on lowering their waists and raising their skirts, some day the big meet will take place.
