JUNIOR TRAINING

- Governor Michael McVey

Hello Juniors!

It's one week from the first Traveler Series Regatta on May 30 at Alum Creek. And, just 4½ weeks from the first camp... Watkins Island Adventure Camp, which begins on June 22. Due to the unknown conditions at Buckeye Lake, we may be traveling to Dillion State Park one day for the on-water activities. More information online!

Also, don't forget the Flag Raising Ceremony and our Pancake Breakfast on July 4th!

BAR & KITCHEN

- Vice Commodore David Luttenberger

Summer is here and we have nothing but fun planned! We will be serving more of the regular menu at the pool. We will also be hosting all kinds of special events at the pool like Thursdays, "Buns, Burgers, and Beer" and Fridays, "BBQ, Bourbon and Brew." We will also have a special Island Menu for the Island Hop Party featuring great seafood and drink specials. Don't forget mon, make your reservations early!

We are pleased to announce the promotion of Kitchen Manager Larry Enmen to Manager of the Kitchen, Bar and Front. Larry has been a cook the BLYC for over 6 years, bartender at lake bars including the Sand Bar, manager at Taco Bell, and Regional Manager for Wendy's. We are also proud to announce the advancement of Josh Daniels from Sous Chef to Chef. Josh has been a cook at the Club twice and the last time for over 6 years. He was also a Chef at the Buxton Inn. We believe these two will make an excellent team bringing quality food and service to the members.

You can help them improve the quality of their service by remembering to make reservations. One of the most difficult jobs in Club management is knowing how many people to expect on a given evening. If no one makes reservations, the staff has to guess about seating, number of servers, bartenders, food purchases and food preparation. If they guess too few, you are unhappy when they run out of food and service is slow. If they guess too many, we throw food away and send our servers home without any income. You can prevent this by making reservations in advance so we can plan accordingly. We look forward to making your experience at the Club an exceptional one and we are open to suggestions. You can bring them to Larry, Josh, or myself.

BULLETIN: The New menu will be out in June. There are more options, more vegetarian, heart healthy selections, two regular fish entrees that can be ordered the way you like them; baked, broiled, sautéed, or blackened. As always, we also have new specials every week. Come on in, enjoy the new menu at your favorite destination, the BLYC.

Don't forget, come in and take advantage of our Happy Hour drink specials, Wednesday-Friday from 4-7pm. We will be offering specials on beer, wine, and well drinks.

BLYC... your place for fun all summer long.

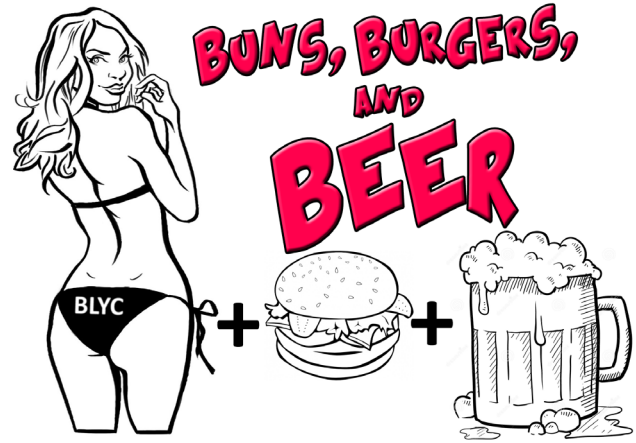

We're Here to Serve!

HOUSE & GROUNDS

- Rear Commodore Dave Lawrence

"Summertime, and the livin' is easy, fish are a jumpin' and the cotton is high.....!" (George Gershwin, Porgy and Bess musical, 1936). Sounds like an invitation to the Yacht Club! Members who have come out to the Club are amazed that we still have those beautiful views of the lake. That has not changed.

In House and Grounds, we have been working very hard since the beginning of April to ready the Club for "Summertime." The pool is ready to go and some say it looks better than it has for many years. We have had the leaks repaired, the sunken concrete has been back filled, the sidewalk leveled, patio blocks installed for a smooth transition to the deck, and a new heater installed. I am proud to say that by doing most of the work ourselves, we were able to save the Club nearly $3000. This was made possible by many members who gave time, materials, or both. The May issue of the Log under "H and G" highlighted many of the volunteers. Added to that list is Vic Schroeder, who brought his concrete saw from his landscape business and did the cutting of the concrete blocks. A special thanks to Chuckie and Trent, our maintenance guys, who have worked very hard this spring to get the club ready for summer. As we face the challenge of reduced income, it is imperative that we use all of the resources available to us.

In addition to the pool, we have focused on the landscape and flowers. If you have noticed the pretty ladies in pots, take time to thank the pretty ladies, (and gentleman), who are helping to take care of them. "Flower Power" (I am a product of the sixties), is alive and well at the Club! Kathy Severance, Dianne Ryan, Linda Masone, Sue Wadley and Dennis Bulley have volunteered to be on a team to water, feed, deadhead, mulch, and weed our lovelies! It is not too late to join in the fun! If you are interested, let me know. A big THANK YOU to the BLYC Auxiliary for their generous donation making it possible to beautify the island again this year!

By the way, some members are interested in a fire pit to sit around on a nice summer evening. We are looking to get a propane pit - one that is large enough for a small crowd. If you are interested in helping make that a reality, let me know.

Don't let the negativity of the media and ODNr taint your outlook on the great experiences to be had at your Yacht Club! Come out and see for yourself. You will be pleasantly surprised!

See you at the Club!

Ahhh...Sunshine, margaritas and rocking chairs. What a way to spend a Sunday afternoon!

The Auxiliary's Semi-Annual Meeting was well attended and we covered a lot of ground. We welcomed back a familiar face - Betty Kamphowe. Glad to have you back Betty! We've also added three new members; Cat Cassady, Howard Everitt and Jo Ann Vangilder. Welcome aboard!

Our June 11th meeting is going to be a real "gem". Come Sip, Shop and Savor attire items that we all bring in to swap. It will start at the usual 6:00 pm with cocktails, dinner around 6:30 and our meeting at 7:00. We'll be ordering from the menu so make your reservations. You'll leave feeling like you've been on a shopping spree at Gucci - on us!!

We have a beauty of a booze basket put together for summer and will be selling tickets soon. Don't forget about those auction items for the fundraiser. August is just around the corner!

You thought last year's fundraiser was a great time....hang on to your hats and your big hair! The theme has changed and so has the era. Get out those Members Only jackets, loafers, linen pants, scrunchies and big earrings. (please leave the spandex and leggings at home) We're going to downtown Miami.....Vice style!! - Complete with neon lights, pink flamingos and palm trees. Watch for posters with more info at the club.

LOOKING AFT...

- P/C Steve Harris, Club Historian

The Drowning of Pat Malone

Recently, I've been reading Joseph Simpson's The Story of Buckeye Lake, published in 1912. Simpson's book details the building of the canal and much of the early days of the lake area, prior to the founding of BLYC. Thanks to the efforts of P/C Frank Foster, III, a scan of this book is available on our website in the history archives.

Anyone who's spent much time at the lake knows that our communities have many "characters" who add to the local flavor that makes the lake so unique. It has been this way throughout history. The following excerpt from Simpson's book details a humorous story about one of the many "characters" who was a part of the early lake history, his demise, and the manner in which he was honored in death. I find it to be a fitting tribute. Perhaps I'll leave instructions for my wake to be conducted in a similar manner – in the fireplace room at BLYC, of course.

Pat Malone helped to build the reservoir. He was a humorous character and his trite sayings created much fun and made him popular with his fellow workmen. One day, while feeling exceedingly exuberant, he banteringly attempted to walk a log reaching out over the water near where he worked, when he lost his balance and fell and was drowned. His death was greatly deplored by his fellow shovelers. His wit and repartee was keen and much relished.

He had no relatives to mourn him, and it was left to his companions to care for his remains. Following an old and established custom among his countrymen, a "wake" was held. A commodious cabin that stood where the Sellers Hotel now stands (most recently, the location of Smitty's Restaurant) was used for the purpose.

Four dollars was due Pat as wages, which was placed in the hands of those in charge that his obsequies might be properly celebrated. For want of something better, a coffin was provided by nailing up a box made of stray boards that were found on the premises, lumber then being scarce. At the wake, Pat was placed in a sitting position in one corner of the cabin. His cap was adjusted so that he might seem as natural as possible. Refreshments were in order, and when passed around, Pat was refreshed also, or pretended to be. A holiday was given a delegation that they might attend his burial.

The next day, Pat's body was buried. The journey to his final resting spot, perhaps appropriately, included a series of interesting mishaps as well. He was interred in an area that, at that time, "has been a plot of level grass, unused, except for pasture" on the farm of a Mr. Laughrey. Years later, like most areas around our lake, that "once sacred spot" had cottages built upon it. Later in the book, Simpson refers to Laughrey's Farm as "now Rosebraugh's." From what I could glean from the book, I presume that this graveyard was likely either near where the Rosebraugh neighborhood now exists, just west of the spillway, or possibly our parking area at BLYC.

SATURDAY, JUNE 6

BLYC is pleased to welcome Darryl and Andrea Gatlin back to Watkins Island. GATLIN is a dynamic duo, currently performing over 150 shows throughout the midwest and south each year. The combination of their powerful voices and comedic banter make this duo a crowd favorite.

Prepare to be entertained!
