COMMODORE
JEFF HAMILTON

As we look forward to the warmer weather and boating season, we can't forget about the fun events that we had during the fall & winter months. I greatly appreciate Commodore David Luttenberger for putting together the Speaker Series. They were all very interesting topics and hopefully you were able to enjoy one. If you were unable to attend, plan to attend one next year when they will start again. Rear Commodore Bill Collinson has been busy with getting the pool ready for the opening on Memorial Day weekend. We had the pool painted this spring. We all are looking forward to the pool being open. Thank you, Bill, for coordinating the Spring Work Day which was held on April 23rd. As usual, the many hands helped make the work easier. I greatly appreciate all the members and staff who participated in helping our Club get ready for the summer season.

If you missed the Commodore's Ball, you missed one spectacular evening. To say the least, as Commodore, I was overly impressed and amazed. Vice Commodore, Mike Bruckelmeyer and his committee put on one fantastic event. The food was amazing, the staff was wonderful, and the entertainment was great. It was a great way to honor all Commodores and their service to BLYC.

This month is going to be packed full of events at BLYC. We will start on May 5th with our Cinco de Mayo party and May 6th is a special day for celebration at our Club. Did you know that our Clubhouse building will be 110 years old on May 6th? We are going to have a celebration from 1:00 pm to 3:00 pm. We will have a proclamation from the State of Ohio, and we will have special guests as well. Please come to the Club and celebrate this momentous occasion for our building. You might as well stay afterwards for the 149th run of the Kentucky Derby. The Derby is always one of my favorite events to watch since I am a native Kentuckian. It will be a day to get all dressed up and have fun watching the run for the roses. I would love to see some creative hats! There will be plenty of fun events to attend this month. Please check the calendar in the log or on the BLYC website.

We have a busy summer planned for our members — Memorial Day weekend with the Seafood Boil Fundraiser for Junior Sailing, I-LYA

Junior Regatta, Junior Sailing Camps, Weekly Sailing Races, Cardboard Boat Races, July 4th Weekend & Fireworks on the 3rd, Junior Bay week at Put-in-Bay, and much more. Follow the latest news at www.buckeyelakeyc.com.

With the busy season approaching, I cannot stress the importance of making reservations. It is so easy to do. You can simply visit the website and make a reservation, or you can call the Club and our staff can make the reservation for you. Making a reservation helps our staff to plan accordingly to ensure timely service.

We are moving forward with our front basin project. The new concrete should be poured very soon if not already and the expansion of the island should be started to be filled in as well. We are anticipating that the new band stage will be placed over the next couple of months. Without the support of our members, we would not be able to get this project completed. I greatly appreciate your patience and understanding during this construction. Once it is completed, you will be amazed at the outcome. We will continue to give you updates.

I would like to thank all of our members for being a part of BLYC! We appreciate you!

Cheers!

BAR & KITCHEN

- Vice Commodore Mike Bruckelmeyer

Thank you to everyone who attended the 2023 Commodores Ball. It was a wonderful evening where we celebrated our Past Commodores and honored our current Commodore, Jeff Hamilton. Thank you to everyone who made this a very special event.

Do you know anyone looking for a summer job? As you know, Buckeye Lake Yacht Club is a great place to be and a fun place to work. If you know someone who would be interested, please see our Club Manager Rodney Probst or Front of House Manager, Ish Howe, for details or visit the website to apply.

The summer menu will be introduced this month. Rodney and our wonderful kitchen staff are ready to prepare delicious meals to help you enjoy the upcoming summer months.

We should be able to begin using our front patio within the next few weeks so again and I cannot stress enough the importance of making reservations for dining at the Club. We all know that the summer season is the busiest on the lake and at the Club. With all the activity and interest in the Club, we must sometimes limit the number of people we can serve at a given event in order to provide the best service possible. Please actively review the upcoming events in the Log and website, plan your activities and make reservations. It's easy, either just go online or call the Club to make your reservations. If you make a reservation and cannot keep it, please contact our office by 2:00 pm on the day of to cancel. This courtesy will allow members on a waiting list to attend the event or dinner. The $25 per person charge is in effect for any reservations not cancelled.

Until next time,

Enjoy!

HOUSE & GROUNDS

- Rear Commodore Bill Collinson

Spring has come early and the weather has been summer like. Work continues on the front patio and basin. All the concrete that existed has been crushed and used as fill behind the new seawall. Trenching has been completed to install conduit for electric and water. Grading is taking place to afford the proper drainage on the island. By the time you read this article, the backfilling behind the seawall should be almost completed and the pavers that will make up the compass rose should be on site. We continue to make progress in the hopes that the front patio may be available for use by the Memorial Day Weekend.

I am pleased to announce the renovations in the dining room have been completed and it is open for business. As of this writing we have started preparing the pool for the summer season. This year the pool will receive a new coat of paint and with the weather being what it is, we have made use of the extra time to make sure it is open for business by Memorial Day Weekend. There will also be installed a new awning over the pool bar. And as usual the large umbrella will be up and operating by the Memorial Day Weekend. You may have noticed we have been adding gravel to the parking lot area and by the time you read this article, that project should have been completed.

At the time of this writing we are 10 days out from our Spring Clean Up day on April 23. This is a day when members volunteer to help get the pool furniture out and assist in the general cleaning of the club for the summer season.

Just a reminder, on May 6 we will be celebrating the 110th anniversary of our club house with a proclamation from the state of Ohio acknowledging that milestone.

Here is looking forward to a fun-filled and active season at the club.

COMMUNICATIONS

- Governor Dean Pickett

Happy Mother's Day and Memorial Day fellow BLYC members. Isn't Ohio weather just crazy? As I sit in my office writing the article for May, it is back to high winds and winter weather. Just last week it was almost 80 and sunny. During today's crazy wind and weather, I did notice some people getting their boats delivered. I think we need to give the marinas and delivery people around the lake a very big THANK YOU!

In May, we have some exciting events taking place. The first event is the sailing warm-up series during the beginning of May. As Rear Commodore Collinson mentioned, the second event, BLYC building is turning 110 years old. As everyone knows, it takes an army to keep the building looking as great as it does.

As I mentioned last month, the BLYC Annual Cardboard Boat Race is on July 8th. Over the next few months, you will start to see more information coming out. Like last year, this will be an exciting event. Whether you build a boat or just come out an cheer on your favorite participant, you will have fun !!

Please continue to support the BLYC

Bring on Boating Season!

Now that the annual dues season is over, it's time to start opening membership up to people on the waiting list. This past board meeting, we reviewed completed applications for 22 people on the waiting list. Their applications are posted in the bar area for your review and the board will vote on their membership at our next meeting, May 11. If you know of someone who has submitted an online application, but hasn't gotten all of their sponsorship information submitted, please encourage them to do so ASAP. We also welcome two new members to BLYC this month...

WELCOME ABOARD!

Now that we are starting to move into the busier season at the club, it is important that we reiterate our policy on guests. Per the by-laws it says, "... but no person residing within a radius of fifty miles from the Club Premises, and who is eligible to membership in the Club, shall be a guest on said premises more than three times in any one year. Such an occasional guest of a Member must be accompanied on the Club Premises by his or her host Member." Since we are technically on the honor system, it is important that all of us abide by this rule in order to be respectful of other members. Remember, it's three times no matter which member they accompany to the club.

See You at the Club!

- P/C Steve Harris, BLYC Historian

How the Clubhouse Came to be...

The BLYC Clubhouse was officially dedicated on Sunday, May 4, 1913. It has faithfully served the needs of the membership for over 110 years. The story of how it came to be, however, includes several twists and turns, the dedication and philanthropy of many members, natural disasters, and definitely a bit of luck. Last month, I profiled Commodore Harry Holbrook (1914-1915). While his contributions were great, he was far from the only member who made it possible.

As discussed last month, the upstart Buckeye Lake Yacht Club faced significant difficulty in finding a location for its clubhouse. It also faced nearly impossible financial challenges as well. As a new club, there was no treasury and they quickly discovered that any building would require raising significant funds for construction and materials. How did they accomplish that?...

The Buckeye Lake Building Company.

The Buckeye Lake Building Company was founded in January, 1907 as a for profit corporation separate from the club itself. It was brought into existence by club members with the stated purpose of “constructing and erecting buildings at or in the vicinity of Buckeye Lake, to be used for boat houses, club houses, or any similar purpose, and to acquire land and hold real estate necessary therefor; to build and equip, rent or sell sail, row or power boats; to erect and construct docks and wharves; provide harbors and anchorage facilities for boats; and to do any and all other things necessary or incidental to the execution of the afore said objects.” — essentially, anything and everything necessary to have a “real” yacht club. It would then rent said facilities back to the club.

As discussed last month, by 1912 the membership's desire for a “real” clubhouse was strong. The BLYC board appointed a committee to investigate the possibilities. The committee reported back that construction of the building on Watkins Island would be the responsibility of Buckeye Lake Building Company, not that of Buckeye Lake Yacht Club as the Building Company held the lease on the island; and, that the Club itself, owning only about 160 shares of the approximately 500 sold by the building company, thus far, was not in a position to control the corporation. Furthermore, it was within the power of the company to sell to any member or members of the Club any part or all of the nearly 500 shares still lying in its treasury. The situation also was complicated by the fact that a considerable number of individual stockholders were no longer members of the Club. Hence, it was not beyond the realm of possibility that control of the company and its property, and therefore that of the Club, could be manipulated out of the hands of the Club and its members. To prevent such possible calamity, the Club itself would have to acquire a majority of the company's total of 1000 shares of authorized capital stock.

Fortunately for BLYC, several officers of the Building Company were also officers of the club. In particular, sitting Commodore Harry Freeman, a well-known Columbus real estate developer, Walter Whitacre proprietor of a lumber and building products company, and architect Harry Holbrook. These men, with others, set out to secure enough shares under the Club's control to drive the project forward to erect a new clubhouse... which they did. Using their influence, they proposed that the Building Company erect the clubhouse and lease it back to the Club. In exchange, the club agreed to purchase the remaining unsold shares of the Building Company. Asset-rich and cash-poor (BLBC had less than $20 in the back, the rest was in investments), they agreed and somehow financed the project at a cost of approximately $5,000 (~$150,000 in today's dollars.)

Construction began that summer and the new clubhouse was “substantially completed” by mid-February, with the second floor being finished by a group of club volunteers (as was also the case with much of the construction). Less than a month later, on March 31, the new clubhouse was completely awash — Watkins Island had reverted back to “Sunken Island” in the Great Flood of 1913. Coincidentally, that very same day, the directors of the Buckeye Lake Building Company met for their annual meeting. At that time, the Building Company had sold 776 shares of its authorized 1,000 total. Of those, Buckeye Lake Yacht Club controlled 663. With full control of both the meeting and the corporation, the Club moved forward making arrangements to buy the remaining shares and purchase the Clubhouse.

The following years would bring many difficulties for the club — among other challenges, the Great War, a tornado nearly destroying the Clubhouse in 1928, and the Great Depression. Our history is unclear on how the Club managed to stay afloat financially and manage its debt during those years, but somehow the club survived. On November 25, 1938, at a sparsely-attended meeting of the Building Company, the club controlled 842 of the 844 shares in the corporation with Commodore Freeman owning the remaining two. The decision was made to dissolve the Building Company and transfer all of its physical properties and liabilities to the Buckeye Lake Yacht Club. The club finally owned its home outright!

But, how did financially struggling BLYC gain control of so many of the Building Company shares?

The Wolfe family has long been associated with Buckeye Lake and improvements in the area. Robert F. Wolfe was an early member of the club. His son, Edgar would join following service in World War I and remain a loyal member of BLYC until his death. Edgar was an avid boater, both here and at Lake Erie. A very successful and influential businessman, Edgar Wolfe was equally well known for his philanthropy — as his obituary read, “The dominant motivation of Edgar Thurston Wolfe was the civic improvement of this community.” Through the years, we was very active in the Club and often came to the club's aid in times of real need. He served as Commodore of BLYC in 1934 and of I-LYA in 1937. ...You may be thinking, “but what does this have to do with the Clubhouse?”

By the 1930's, many of the shares in the Building Company that were “under the control of BLYC” were, actually, owned by Edgar Wolfe. Over 50 years after the Club assumed control of the clubhouse, it was revealed by 1938 Commodore Bob Irwin that, for a number of years, Wolfe would meet annually with the Commodore to discuss the state of the club and that, at the end of such meetings, he would cast some of those shares into the club's fireplace. The final shares were so burned in the fall of 1938 in a meeting with 1939 Commodore Chris Lambrecht. Just days later, on November 28, the Building Company was officially, legally dissolved.

But then, we still didn't own the island — we leased it from the State of Ohio. There was no dining room — it and the Commodores Lounge were porches — no front patio, no pool... another story for another Log.
